

CANADIAN CLIMATE FUND FOR THE PRIVATE SECTOR IN THE AMERICAS

The Canadian Climate Fund for the Private sector in the Americas aims to finance private sector climate mitigation and adaptation projects in Latin America and the Caribbean (LAC) that need concessional financing to become viable projects. The Fund, initiated by a $250 million contribution from the government of Canada and administered by the Inter-American Development Bank \(IDB\) seeks to mobilize private investment and stimulate economic growth, and will provide financing to projects focused on renewal energy, energy efficiency, and reducing greenhouse emissions and climate change vulnerabilities.

SIXTH SUMMIT MANDATE:

To promote and/or optimize electrical interconnection and foster the development of renewable energy generation in the Americas. (Integration Of Physical Infrastructure In The Americas)

THE FUND WILL FINANCE PROJECTS ON:

- Promotion of renewable energy and energy efficiency
- Reduction of greenhouse gas emissions
- Adaptation to reduce climate change vulnerability

PARTNERS:

Canada

Inter-American Development Bank

